3. Fleur Capital (a Singaporean Fund Manager with USD450m under management, represented by Mr. Yap Chee Wee, Co-Founder
About the Fund

The AAA Impact Fund has been conceived with the innovative goal of linking Africa, Asia and Arabia through Impact Investments in sustainable projects, technology companies and funds, including but not limited to the Emerging Africa Technology Fund.

The ceremony, held during the New Chinese Lunar year, was witnessed and co-chaired by Lord Marland, Chairman, Commonwealth Enterprise and Investment Council (CWEIC) and His Excellency, Alvin Tan Minister of State, Republic of Singapore both of whom lauded the initiative as a formidable partnership between member nations of the Commonwealth and an opportunity to leverage on growing technological inventions and green investment initiatives using Singapore's capabilities as a financial hub, Hong Kong and China's significant financial resources and Africa's young and vibrant economies and growing middle class.

Also present at the signing, were the Host & Adviser to consortium, Mr. Raymond Huang Country Chair for Singapore at Commonwealth Enterprise and Investment Council (CWEIC), Dr. Boh Soon Lim and other representatives of the Investor community.

Commenting on the landmark event, Dr. Toyin Sanni remarked that the AAA Impact Fund will go a long way to bridge funding gaps for critical infrastructure and other resources caused by inadequate information, trust deficit and inadequate structures to support cross-border investments thus perpetuating poverty, inequality and inequities. She expressed excitement at the partnership with Fleur Capital and Titan Financial Services and a strong optimism that the AAA Impact Fund will connect Africa with global financial centers and investments as well as impactful investment opportunities.

The Emerging Africa Group is committed to advancing Africa's economy through innovative financing and investment solutions, with a strong focus on Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) principles, leveraging its talent, innovation and collaborative efforts, Emerging Africa Capital is committed to driving sustainable growth across the region
